TOKEN STRIPS

Name: ..... Date: .....

Four narrow strips that fit along the edge of a desk or inside the front of a folder, where a full A4 board will not go. Each one has its own number of spaces, so you can start a child on the three-space strip and move along the page as they manage more work between rewards.

Tape the strip down rather than letting it slide. A board that moves every time the child reaches for it becomes a toy instead of a record.

Cut the four strips apart on the white space between them.
