BREAK CHOICE BOARD

Name: ..... Date: .....

Six calm things to choose from when the break card has been handed over. Point to the board and wait: the choice is the part that gives the child control back. Cross out anything that is not available in your room today rather than offering it and then saying no.

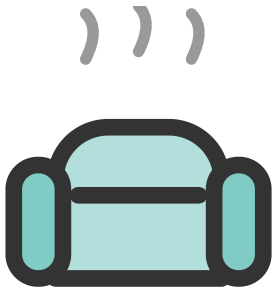

Drink

Water fountain or my bottle

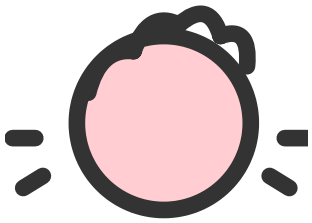

Walk

One lap of the hall with an adult

Quiet corner

Bean bag, lights low, no talking

Squeeze

Stress ball, putty or a big hug

Breathe

Five slow breaths, in and out

Music

Headphones, one song

Today I chose ..... and I came back after .....

None of these six is a reward, which is the point: a break is a rest, not a prize. If the child always picks the same one, that is the one that regulates them fastest, so keep it available.

For non-commercial, education use only