PARTS OF A FLOWER

Name: ..... Date: .....

Six control cards for the second worked set, parts of a flower: petal, sepal, stamen, pistil, stem and leaf. The named part is drawn in red. These are the answer cards, so keep them apart from the other two pages.

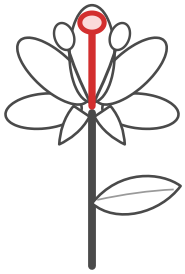

petal

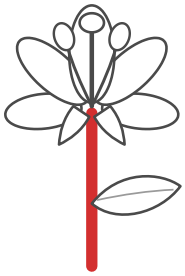

sepal

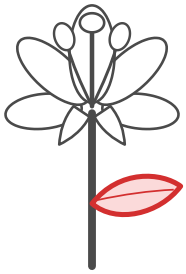

stamen

pistil

stem

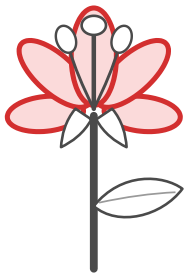

leaf

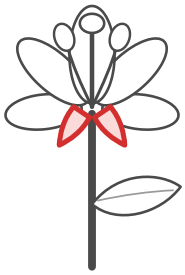

A flower set is harder than a leaf set, because the stamen and the pistil sit close together in the middle of the drawing. Name those two last, and point at the tip of each one as you say the word.

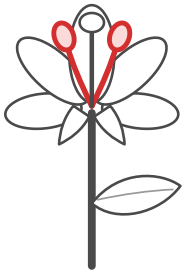

PARTS OF A FLOWER

Name: ..... Date: .....

The matching six picture cards. Same drawings, same size, no words. The child lays these out in a column before the labels come out of the envelope.

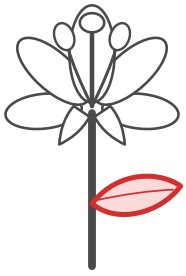

Cut the picture cards from the same printing as the control cards. If you reprint one card later, reprint the pair.

PARTS OF A FLOWER

Name: ..... Date: .....

The six words as label cards, printed twice so one set is a spare. Each card is the size of the label box on the control card.

petal	sepal
stamen	pistil
stem	leaf
petal	sepal
stamen	pistil
stem	leaf

With the leaf set from the free sheets this gives two botany sets. Do not mix them in one envelope: a set is finished when the child can match all six without the control cards, and that is easier to see when each set lives on its own.

For non-commercial, education use only