PLOT MOUNTAIN

Name: ..... Date: .....

Read the fable. Then write what happens at each numbered point of the plot mountain. Finish with the question at the bottom.

A hare liked to boast about how fast he was. "Nobody can beat me," he told the other animals every morning. One day a tortoise said quietly, "I will race you." The animals laughed, but the hare agreed, and the fox marked out a course to the old oak tree.

The race began. The hare shot ahead and was soon out of sight. The tortoise plodded on, one step after another. Halfway along, the hare looked back, saw nothing, and lay down under a bush for a nap.

When the hare woke, the sun was low. He looked towards the oak tree and saw the tortoise a few steps from the finish. The hare ran faster than he had ever run, but it was too late. The tortoise crossed the line first.

The animals cheered. "Slow and steady wins the race," said the tortoise, and the hare had nothing to say.

1. Exposition (beginning)

_____

_____

2. Rising action

_____

_____

3. Climax

_____

_____

4. Falling action

_____

_____

5. Resolution

_____

_____

What is the moral of the fable, and at which point of the plot mountain do we learn it?

_____

PLOT MOUNTAIN ANSWER KEY

Name: ..... Date: .....

1. The hare boasts about his speed; the tortoise challenges him and the fox sets the course. 2. The race starts; the hare races ahead, the tortoise plods on, and the hare stops for a nap. 3. The hare wakes to see the tortoise a few steps from the finish and sprints. 4. It is too late; the tortoise crosses the line first. 5. The animals cheer; the tortoise says "Slow and steady wins the race."

1. Slow and steady wins the race (keep going and do not be careless); it is stated in the resolution.

For non-commercial, education use only · page 2 of 2