PHOTO THERMOMETER

Name: ..... Date: .....

For children who read photographs better than drawings. Take a photo of the child at each level on a calm day, or use a photo of what helps at that level, and tape one in each box.

tape a photo here

5. Out of control

In the photo you can see: .....

tape a photo here

4. Very upset

In the photo you can see: .....

tape a photo here

3. Upset

In the photo you can see: .....

tape a photo here

2. A little bothered

In the photo you can see: .....

tape a photo here

1. Calm

In the photo you can see: .....

Photograph the child acting the level out, not in a real incident: posing for a level 5 on a good day is safe and funny, and photographing a real meltdown is neither. Photos of the strategy also work well, for example the bean bag, the water bottle or a hand on the wall.

For non-commercial, education use only