THE MYSTERY BAG

Name: ..... Date: .....

Put the solids in a cloth bag. Reach in, feel one solid with both hands and say its name out loud before you pull it out. Write what you said and what it turned out to be.

Try	What I said it was	What it really was	Right?

HOW TO PLAY ALONE

Close your eyes, mix the solids in the bag, and take one out only after you have named it. Ten tries is one game. Count how many you got right and try to beat it tomorrow.

HOW TO PLAY WITH TWO

One person names a solid out loud. The other has to find it in the bag by feel and hand it over without looking. Swap after five.

This is the classic stereognostic exercise: the hand does the work the eye usually does. The hardest pairs are the ovoid and the ellipsoid, which feel the same until you find the wide end, and the cube and the cuboid, which feel the same until you compare two edges.
