BREAK REQUEST STRIPS

Name: ..... Date: .....

A sentence frame for a child who can read and write a little, or for one who can say the words with the strip in front of them. Filling the strip in is itself a pause, and the last line settles the return before the break starts, so coming back is not a new argument.

I NEED A BREAK

because I feel .....

I would like .....

I will come back in ..... minutes

Adult says yes ☐

Say the words out loud with the child the first few times. Model the whole sentence, including the number of minutes, and then honor exactly what the strip says.

Cut the three strips apart. Keep a stack on the desk or in the front of the folder.
